WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite denials that his country has taken sides in the Middle East crisis, French President Georges Pompidou was faced today with the possibility of a cool, if not hostile, reception during his address to a joint meeting of Congress.

Some congressmen had predicted nearly half the House membership might boycott his appearance in protest of the French sale of fighter planes to Libya. At least one House member, Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., declared he would walk out in the middle of Pompidou's talk.

The French leader, on the first full day of his eight-day visit to the United States, said Tuesday France is "neither in one camp nor in the other" in the Middle East. "We are certainly not against Israel," he told The National Press Club.

Defending the sale of French planes to Libya, Pompidou said the decision was made because "there was suddenly a gap, a vacuum we did not provoke. We felt it was in our interest to fill this gap."

Pompidou met with Nixon for two hours prior to the Press Club talk and, said presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, the two leaders discussed the world situation in detail, touching on the Middle East.

At the same time, diplomatic aspects of the Middle East crisis, including four-power talks among Britain, the Soviet Union, France and the United States, were discussed in a meeting of Secretary of State William Rogers and French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann in a nearby Cabinet room, Ziegler said.

Pollution Fight Could Be Costly To Householder

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of fighting pollution? For a start, says one study, the household electricity bill could go up five to 10 per cent—a couple of dollars a month.

Antipollution costs will also show up in other places when it comes to electricity, according to a paper accepted Tuesday by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

"Industries that use large quantities of power will be seriously affected by cost increases," says the paper prepared by Seymour Baron, a New Jersey construction engineer. "These cost increases, when added to raw, intermediate and finished products produced by the industries, can have a significant effect on their costs to the public," he said.

His estimates on increased antipollution costs are for coal, oil and nuclear powered plants with pollution controls "that will make a significant reduction to a point of elimination of pollution."

Thermal pollution, the release of hot water from power plants into lakes and streams, is the chief enemy when it comes to this kind of preventive spending, Baron said.

He said nuclear power plants will come cleaner more cheaply than coal and oil powered plants. Power plants are a comparatively minor pollution factor. For example, in the Los Angeles basin, power plants contribute 12 per cent of the air pollution, autos 85 per cent.

The committee is probing effects of power production on the environment.

Demos Blamed For Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said today the Democrats brought on inflation because of irresponsible fiscal policies.

The Michigan lawmaker answered House Democratic Leader Carl Albert's contention Nixon administration monetary policies have contributed to inflation.

Ford said it is ironic Albert would seek to blame the Nixon administration for inflation he said is directly due to the policies of the previous Democratic administration.

"The truth is that the real earnings of the non-farm worker in the private sector rose hardly at all in the Democratic years of 1965, 1966, 1967 and 1968—the years when then President Lyndon Johnson said we could have both guns and butter," Ford said.

Ford said that Albert has unfairly attacked the Nixon administration for its efforts to combat the inflation brought on by "a Democratic administration which committed 540,000 military personnel to Vietnam and refused to pay for that war, an administration which ran up federal deficits totaling $45 billion."

"President Nixon is making a constructive effort to solve the inherited problem of inflation," he said. "He is seeking to build a strong peacetime economy that will provide jobs and industrial growth for a better America."

Today's Chuckle

The whole science of economics can be summed up in four short words: "There's no free lunch."

Laird Suggests Closing More Bases In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The upcoming massive reductions of additional U.S. military bases indicated by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is in keeping with reduction of American armed forces as Pentagon sources say involvement in Vietnam tapers off.

Laird said Tuesday the reduction would involve "well over 100 bases." Other Defense Department officials said the cutback could affect as many as several hundred bases, some of which may be closed outright.

The Pentagon move, which Laird said would be spelled out in detail within a month, comes on top of reductions or closings at 307 bases in the United States and abroad announced as an economy measure last October.

The defense chief made the remark in passing during a briefing with newsmen on the Nixon administration's plan for expansion of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. He did not elaborate.

Pentagon sources indicated the latest purge of facilities may involve some major installations, including Naval shipyards.

The cutbacks announced in October involved bases in 42 states, Puerto Rico and a number of undisclosed foreign countries. The Pentagon said that dismantling would save $609 million a year.

Since President Nixon took office Jan. 20, 1969, the Army, Navy and Air Force have announced plans to eliminate some 76,700 civilian jobs in the services. In addition, a 550,000-man cutback in military personnel from the Vietnam war peak is expected to be completed by June 30, 1971.

$42,000 Salary Asked For State School Official

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education prepared today to fight for a $42,000 salary it considers long overdue for the state superintendent for public instruction.

The chief state school officer now receives $30,000.

In a new 1970 - 71 budget bill, Gov. William G. Milliken is suggesting the salary should be boosted to $35,000.

"We have the authority to set the salary for the superintendent, board member Thomas Brennan, D - Dearborn, told his colleagues Tuesday night.

"If we say it should be $42,000, then it should be $42,000."

U.S. Stymied By Hijackings, Arab Terrorism

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials appear as baffled about how to handle Arab airline terrorism as about what to do to stop hijacking of American planes to Cuba.

The State Department indicates at this point it will deal with the continuing anti-Israel aspects of airline attack by a soft approach of international discussions through aviation associations.

The department said Tuesday the United States does not plan to stop commercial flights to Israel in the wake of two explosions last weekend on planes flying from Europe to Tel Aviv. One Swissair plane exploded shortly after take off from Zurich, killing 47 persons.

The question arose here after some European airlines stopped air shipments of cargo and mail to Israel.

The only positive action the State Department will admit to is instruction to Charles Butler, U.S. representative to the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal to seek a meeting of the ICAO.

Press officer Carl Barch also said the Swiss government has called for a meeting of the International Air Transport Association.

The ICAO is a specialized agency of the United Nations, with 116 member nations, which regulates largely technical aspects of international aviation.

"We expect some results," Barch replied to a question on what a conference could do. "But we don't know just what they might be." He said it is hoped the ICAO council will "discuss what might be done and maybe we can get some ideas from their delegates."

School Aid Formula Debate Lingers On

U.P. Legislators Take Slap At MEA

LANSING (AP) — A record, $1.23 - billion state school aid appropriation, predicated on a $330-million tax increase, faced more debate in the Michigan House this afternoon.

The House gave a 57-45 preliminary approval Tuesday to the massive compromise measure, worked out between Democratic Speaker William A. Ryan and Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica. The adoption, by a mere one-vote margin, reversed an earlier rejection for the Ryan-Spencer spending proposal.

Hostility Predicted

There were predictions, however, that the House would be hostile to the huge, companion tax bill that would be required to fund the billion-dollar school aid measure.

Spencer's program calls for increasing the state income tax from 2.6 per cent to 3.5 per cent for personal income and asking voters in a school district to choose between a local income tax or an increase in present property tax rates. Under his plan, one mill would equal two-tenths of one per cent in income tax.

Tax Hike Foreseen

The extra $330 million produced by those and other tax increases would help to guarantee every district:

—$420 in state aid to every pupil if the district assessed a 10-mill property tax.

—Another $120 per child for each 10-20 extra mills of tax.

—No less than $100 in state aid regardless of local tax variations.

—At least $5 more per child than the district now receives from the state.

"There is no conceivable way this House can pass those tax levels," said Rep. Martin Butz, assistant GOP minority leader.

Some Oppose Taxes

After studying Tuesday's tally, Butz said the Ryan-Spencer proposal "is picking up Democrats only as it's marked down." There were other reports that at least six legislators who helped pass the school aid bill were committed to opposing a companion tax measure when it comes up for a vote.

House education and appropriations committees both recommended $1-billion-plus school aid bills earlier this year, but Democrats voted overwhelmingly to strip millions from those proposals, and Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Deerborn, chairman of the education committee was among those voting against the $1-billion compromise on Tuesday.

Demo Against Plan

Another Democrat spoke bluntly of why he wouldn't go along with the plan worked out by Ryan, Spencer and top Republicans.

"The sun is shining outside," said Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, "but you're getting a snow job in here. I'm ready to see the whole ball of wax go down the drain rather than do something wrong for something that is right."

"How long do you think the local income tax option will remain at 2 per cent? They can change it any time to 8 per cent or any per cent," O'Brien thundered. Many suburban Democrats joined him in opposing the substitute.

In another development, the issue of parochialism — passed by the Senate and given a preliminary approval by the House — continued to stir controversy.

Upper Peninsula Reps. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, and John Payant, R-Iron Mountain, flung stinging rebukes at the Michigan Education Association, a teacher's union, and Mrs. Tate of Detroit, president of the Michigan Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Both groups actively oppose parochialism and say they'll attempt to block re-election of all legislators voting for parochialism.

Payant said Mrs. Tate—"this lady from Detroit"—was "as irresponsible as Mr. Korpi in attempting to use the children as pawns," and added:

"I will tell Mrs. Tate and Mr. Korpi that Reps Jacobetti and Payant will not take a one-day moratorium when there are public education funds at stake."

Jacobetti, vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said one reason he voted for parochialism was to assure maximum state aid to Upper Peninsula public school students.

"I want him (Korpi) to hear my voice today," the 15-year House veteran thundered. "I will take care of him later." (See related story on Page 2)

Rep. Charles Diggs

Maddox, Diggs In Verbal Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lester Maddox' attempt to hand out his famous ax handles in the U.S. Capitol restaurant has ended in a shouting match with a black congressman whom the Georgia governor called a "baboon" and an "ass."

Rep. Charles C. Diggs, D-Mich., said he told Maddox the ax handles were an "offensive racist symbol" and asked the governor to leave during the confrontation in the House restaurant Tuesday. Later he introduced a resolution withdrawing from Maddox the restaurant privileges extended to the nation's governors.

"I told him he was acting more like an ass than a man and later told him he was acting like a baboon rather than a congressman," Maddox said to reporters after the incident.

As the operator of a racially segregated restaurant in Atlanta, Ga., Maddox closed down his business in 1964 rather than serve Negroes.

He got national publicity when he passed out ax handles, which he dubbed "Pickrick drumsticks" after the brand name of his fried chicken, in front of the closed restaurant.

Maddox said Diggs had threatened to throw him out of the restaurant, but Diggs denied it. Kermit Cowan, manager of the restaurant, said Diggs, after reporting to him Maddox was passing out the ax handles, approached the governor's table where "they engaged in some heated conversation."

Diggs, who is chairman of the House black caucus, said he told the Georgia governor, "I am sure you're aware of the racism this involves."

Maddox is in Washington for the National Governors' Conference and was at the Capitol Tuesday to testify against expanding the 1965 voting rights law. He frequently carries boxes of ax handles on trips to pass out as souvenirs.

Safety Project

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports work has started on a safety project extending nearly two miles along U.S. 23 at Dundee and costing $65,287. The project primarily consists of guard rail installation.

Missile Program In Senate Crossfire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's proposed expansion of the Safeguard missile defense system is running into a crossfire of opposition in the Senate.

Those who favor confining the ABM to defend U.S. offensive missile bases are joining opponents solidly against any expansion, adding a new level of opposition to the proposal and prompting some senators to say the administration's plan faces an uphill fight.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird laid out details of the second Safeguard phase Tuesday, calling for authorization of a third ABM site at the Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., missile base and advanced work including site acquisition and so-called "long lead time" components for five others.

In addition, the plan outlined by Laird to the Senate Armed Services Committee and the defense appropriations subcommittee urged expansion of the two initial sites, Grand Forks Air Force Base, N.D., and Malmstrom Air Force Base, Mont., by adding more Sprint interceptor missiles.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., co-leader of the bipartisan effort last year which failed on a 50-50 vote to limit the ABM to research, said "it has already been acknowledged that the system of last year is not adequate for hard-point defense" of missile bases.

Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., an ABM opponent last year, said he thinks the administration faces an "uphill fight," especially in its proposal to start with area defense against Red China.

This is involved in four of the five additional sites, those in Washington state, the Michigan-Ohio region, southern New England and the Washington, D.C. area.

Couple Reports Birth Of Quints

NEW YORK (AP) — Quintuplets—three girls and two boys—were born Tuesday night at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center to a 27-year-old New Jersey woman who had been taking fertility drugs.

Arsene Eglsis, a hospital spokesman, said the five infants were born six weeks prematurely to Mrs. Margaret Kienast of Far Hills, N.J. He said the delivery was normal and all five were "doing as well as could be expected."

Mrs. Kienast and her husband, William, a salesman, have two other children, a four-year-old girl and an 18-month-old boy. The spokesman said both of the older children were born after Mrs. Kienast had taken fertility shots.

The quintuplets were born within a 10 minute span from 10:08 to 10:18 p.m.

22 Avalanche Victims Found

GENEVA (AP) — Working through the night under floodlights, searchers in two Alpine villages had recovered the bodies of 22 avalanche victims early today, an injured person had died in hospital, and 21 persons were still missing.

The biggest toll was in Reckingen, in southwest Switzerland, where a huge snowslide roared down into the Rhone valley at dawn Tuesday and buried 50 people.

Twenty-one of the victims were pulled from the snow alive, but one died during the night. By dawn today 14 bodies had been found, and police said there was virtually no hope for the 15 still buried.

Across the Alps to the southwest in the little French village of Lans-le-Villard, eight bodies had been found, two persons were missing, and eight were injured. But a man and woman were dug alive from the wreckage of a partially destroyed hotel more than 17 hours after the avalanche.

The rescued couple said they heard the diggers getting closer and closer to them and cried out to attract their attention.

Nonstop snowfalls and shifting temperatures caused slides throughout the Swiss Alps. The resort of Zermatt was isolated when an avalanche cut the railway to the valley, and helicopters flew out vacationers due to return home. A slide buried 14 skiers in Zermatt, but 10 dug themselves out, and the other four were rescued.

Teacher Walkout To Be Decided Tonight

The parochial issue in Michigan, proposed legislation to increase state support of non-public schools — opposed by some legislators and supported by others — may bring a walkout of about 1,500 public school teachers in five central Upper Peninsula counties.

The decision on whether teachers in Delta, Marquette, Menominee, Alger and Dickinson counties will call a one-day moratorium to protest parochial support by two state representatives will be made at a meeting of the Region 17 Michigan Education Association executive committee and delegate body at Rapid River tonight.

The state representatives who are targets for the MEA protest are Dominic J. Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) and John D. Payant (R-Kingsford) because of their support of the parochial provision in Gov. Milliken's education reform package.

Varnum Opposed

Arnold J. Korpi, Marquette, U. P. director of the MEA, said the meeting will be held at Jack's Restaurant in Rapid River starting at 6 tonight.

The proposal by the MEA to direct public attention to Payant and Jacobetti by a walkout of teachers (a day which would be made up in the school year so there would be no loss of class time for the students) has in general brought public re-

To Close Schools?

MARQUETTE—A meeting of the Marquette Catholic Diocese Board of Education will be held here Saturday to consider recommendations regarding closing of parochial schools in Munising, Newberry, St. Ignace, Iron River, Laurium and Hubbell.

action critical of the MEA.

The Escanaba Daily Press, the Marquette Mining Journal and the Iron Mountain News have editorially called the MEA teacher walkout proposal ill-advised and irresponsible.

No Loss Of Time

Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) is opposing the walkout although he is against parochialism in its present form. He advises teachers to stay in school and keep shop and protest parochialism in some other manner than a walkout.

The proposed one-day moratorium, said Korpi at a confrontation with Payant in Iron Mountain on Wednesday, is up to the teachers in each chapter of MEA Region 17; and school schedules will be readjusted "so that kids will not miss any school."

Payant and Korpi discussed their viewpoints at a breakfast meeting of the legislative affairs committee of the Dickinson County Area Chamber of Commerce.

Payant said he was "elected to represent every person in the 109th district, including every child whether he is a public or parochial school student."

Parochialism is nothing new, said Payant. "We provide aid to non-public schools in transportation, hot lunch programs, auxiliary services and state scholarship grants."

Payant 'Shocked'

"I am on record stating that the parochial bill be sent to the Supreme Court to determine its constitutionality, and that not a single cent be spent until that is decided," Payant added.

Payant said in an earlier statement that he was "shocked" at the proposal to stage a walkout and that he "challenged Korpi to tell me of those MEA chapters which have agreed to go along with the strike." Payant said he had many teachers call him at his home to tell him they will "have no part of any strike against children."

"The MEA has indicated it will spend considerable amounts of money to defeat me politically, and I advise that body to do so — rather than fool around with the lives of our youngsters," Payant said.

Statement Tonight

Korpi at Iron Mountain told Payant that the MEA does not control the teachers and that each chapter makes its own decision on whether it will walk out. He said the MEA is opposed to parochialism along with the Michigan Association of School Administrators, the Michigan School Principals Association and the Michigan School Board Association.

He said that parochialism would be a divisive element in society, would be costly because of the dual school system, and that "we believe it is unconstitutional."

A statement is expected tonight at the Rapid River gathering of the MEA executive committee and delegates on whether the walkout is to be on or has been called off.

Unofficial effort to gauge teacher opinion on the question has been inconclusive. A straw vote at Negaunee showed 18 teachers opposed, 2 for a walkout; at Gwinn the walkout was rejected 80 to 60, according to a report by the Marquette Mining Journal.

Conditions Get More Difficult For U.P. Deer

As winter continues, deer are finding conditions increasingly severe, the Department of Natural Resources said today.

December snowfall at Escanaba was the third heaviest in 65 years and January temperatures at Escanaba were the coldest in seven years, officials said, with much below zero weather. Records of snow depths taken at seven locations throughout the district show levels deeper than average on all gauges except at Big Bay.

The district snow depth average is very close to that of last year at the same date and has run ahead of the average of 1961-62, which was a very severe winter for deer. A plus for deer has been the late confinement to yards with deer tightly yarded only from late January.

Sun Helps

Bright sunshine with little wind and no real blizzards has also benefited deer. The recent warm weekend has produced crusts which have been of limited help to deer where it is strong enough to offer support. In most locations the crust is inadequate and further restricts deer movements.

The weather for the next 5-6 weeks will be critical to yarding deer, officials reported.

Season Surveyed

A quick preliminary summary of the 1969 deer season reveals that hunter numbers were up again.

Hunter traffic across the bridge was up 11 per cent. In the northern Lower Peninsula, traffic counters showed a 12 per cent increase on north-south roads. Hunting conditions were generally good which means hunters spent more time in the woods and exerted more pressure.

The total estimated kill was 99,000. The final mail survey figure of a year ago was 101,000. The buck kill was estimated at 63,500 for the state. Last year the final figure was 64,300.

U. P. Buck Kill

In the Upper Peninsula, 14,000 bucks were taken. In the northern Lower Peninsula, 36,000, and in the southern Lower Peninsula 13,500. The antlerless deer kill was 35,500. The Upper Peninsula with almost a 20 per cent cut in the antlerless quota appeared to yield 9,000 deer; the northern Lower 23,500, and the southern Lower 2,000.

The number of yearlings in the Upper Peninsula kill dropped drastically, the DNR said. This drop indicates that the herd did not winter well last year. In the U. P., yearlings made up 36.9 per cent of the buck kill — a drop from the 57.5 per cent in 1968. In the northern Lower the drop was not great—65.3 per cent compared to 69.5 in 1968.

Achievers Host Meeting Here

Junior Achievement of Escanaba will host a conference Saturday at the Bay de Noc College from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Speakers at the conference will be Forrest Henslee of the State Bank of Escanaba and Robert Barron, industrial relations department at the Escanaba Paper Co.

This conference has been held for the past five years, alternating between Escanaba and Marquette, reported local J. A. leaders. Junior Achievers from these areas conduct their own discussion sessions on management, production, and sales relating to Junior Achievement companies.

Problems of recruiting young adults for the JA Program and maintaining attendance also will be discussed.

Leaders in the group discussions will be Jim Rinehardt, Larry Brukar, management; George Groos, Wayne Hellerstedt, production; Diane St. Vincent, Mary Pratt, sales.

About 65 achievers and 10 advisors are expected.

NEW YORK (AP) — Conrad Nagel, an actor who made the transition from silent pictures to talkies and who was co-founder of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, died Tuesday of a heart attack and emphysema. He was 72.

Born in Keokuk, Iowa, Nagel began his stage career in 1918 in "Forever After." He started in motion pictures the following year as the hero in "Little Women." During the next 14 years he played in 150 features.

Land Use Class Scheduled Here During March

A short course in land use has been scheduled in March for landowners of Delta County, announced J. L. Heirman, Michigan State University extension director for Delta County.

The course will cover basic land use practices for forested and other wild land. Topics relating to forestry, recreation, wildlife, minerals, aesthetics and other land uses will be covered. The course is particularly designed for persons who own from 40 to several hundred acres.

The course consists of four class meetings scheduled for Mondays, March 2, 9, 16 and 30, in the courtroom of the County Building, starting at 7:30 p. m.

At the last meeting, March 30, representatives from the Delta Soil Conservation District, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Farmers' Home Administration, the Agricultural Stabilization and Soil Conservation committee, U. S. Forest Service and Michigan Tree Farm Program will explain assistance programs available to landowners.

Michigan State University instructors for the course are Donald R. Christenson, Extension specialist in soil science, Ray B. Gummerson, district extension leader in natural resources, and Roy E. Skog, extension specialist in forestry. A Michigan Department of Natural Resources game biologist will discuss game habitat improvement.

Foresters Meet

OSHKOSH, Wis. — Foresters from public agencies, private industry, universities, and consulting firms will gather in Oshkosh March 5 and 6 for the Winter Meeting of the Wisconsin-Michigan Section of the Society of American Foresters at the Pioneer Inn.

The meeting's theme "Pollution—Where Do We Fit?" will deal with the role of the professional forester in understanding and combating the problems of environmental pollution.

Schweigert Undecided On Future

LANSING (AP) — Senate President Thomas Schweigert says reports that he will not seek re-election are false.

Schweigert says he doesn't know what he will do.

"It has come to my attention that reports are circulating around Sault Ste. Marie and other Upper Peninsula communities that I have decided not to seek re-election," said Schweigert, a Petoskey Republican.

"These reports are definitely not true," he said. "As of now, my plans for the future are indefinite."

Schweigert has expressed interest in running for the lieutenant governor's spot on the GOP ticket this year. Another lieutenant governor hopeful, House Minority Floor Leader William Hampton, R - Bloomfield Hills, has announced that he will not seek re-election to the House. He has not, however, formally announced for the lieutenant governor's seat.

"I have made no decision about seeking re-election," Schweigert said. "Neither have I made any decision about some other opportunities for public service that I have under consideration at present."

"This situation conceivably could change within the next few weeks but, as of this time, my only interest is in serving the people of the 7th District as a senator and the people of Michigan as president of the Senate," Schweigert said.

"If there is any change in my future plans, I will make an announcement at the proper time."

Irrigation Topic For MSU Program

A program featuring irrigation specialists from Michigan State University will be presented Wednesday, March 4, at 10 a. m., announced J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension Director. The meeting will be held at the Northwoods Supper Club west of Marquette. Emphasis will be directed toward irrigation of potatoes and strawberries.

Concert Opens Bay College Activities Week

By PAM JOHNS
Student Government
Bay de Noc C. C.

Winter Activities Week at Bay de Noc Community College — four days of fun including snow games, a dance and the annual Miss Bay de Noc Queen Pageant — begins today.

Purpose of the Activities Week is to encourage interaction between students in a social schedule patterned after the snow festival week held at many colleges and universities. The Student Government at Bay de Noc hopes to make Activities Week an annual event.

Activities begin tonight with the performance of Josh White Jr., well-known folk singer who has appeared at over 500 colleges, at 8 o'clock in the Escanaba Area High School auditorium. Bay de Noc students will be admitted free with their I. D. cards. Admission for the general public will be $1, collected at the door.

Thursday has been set aside for the snow games.

Broomball, which is hockey played with brooms and a volleyball, VW races in which four team members push a Volkswagen for a block and drive it back to the starting line and toboggan races on a trail around the school, are scheduled. Men's and women's competition will commence at noon.

Trophies will be awarded to the male and female team compiling the most points in the three activities.

Friday night a dance, open to college students, will feature the music of the "Four Degrees North," from Michigan Tech, a group which features a guitar, electric piano, and female vocalist and patterns itself after the 5th Dimension. The dance will be from 8 to 12:30 and admission will be $1.25. Also featured at the dance will be the introduction of the Miss Bay de Noc Queen Candidates.

Concluding the week's activities Saturday night will be the annual Miss Bay de Noc Community College Queen Pageant. Eight candidates representing various student groups will participate in modeling evening gowns and suit ensembles, as well as performing a talent. The candidate selected as Miss Bay de Noc will be sponsored by the Student Government as she pursues the title of Miss Michigan Junior College at a pageant downstate in April.

The Student Government is hopeful of a successful week. The atmosphere around campus is one of interest in both the evening entertainment and the prospect of snow games. The Student Government anticipates that the week will help to generate greater school unity as well as provide an opportunity for the students to develop friendships which extend beyond their high school affiliations.

And as you can see, time was on our side.

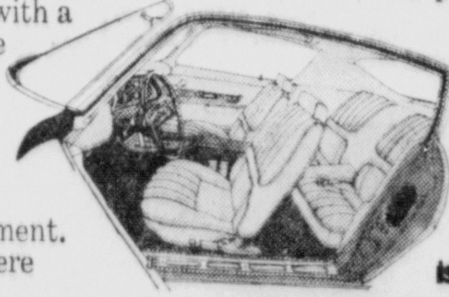

Because we didn't bother with the simulated air scoops. Or any other put-ons that might put you off.

Instead we took the time to build a whole new car from the ground up. In four distinctive versions: Standard, Rally Sport, Super Sport and Z28.

We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance. So it hovers a few short inches from the pavement. Right down there with Corvette.

To that we added more hood. A faster fastback. More window area. And wider doors for easier entry.

On RS models, there's even a resilient bumper that surrounds the grille. To protect against nicks and knocks.

Compare the new Camaro with any competitive car in its field. If you can find one. Two extra buckets. No extra bucks.

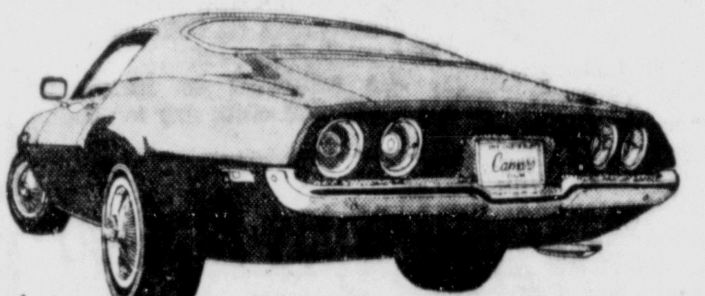

Most sportsters give you two buckets in front. And a sofa in back. We've done them two better. The back seat sofa is out. In are two rear bucket-styled cushions. Up front the buckets are deeply contoured to put you firmly in place. And keep you there. Even in tight turns.

The instrument panel is just as functional. It's flat black and wraps around. With enough dials and instrumentation to make you think you're piloting a 747.

Only with this one you don't need a flight crew.

The special handling is built right in.

Camaro always had a tough reputation when it came to taking on tight turns. Now we made it tougher.

With a forward-mounted steering linkage and an improved front and rear suspension that give the new Camaro a leech-like grip on the road. It's something other cars will have a tough time coming to grips with. What motivates all this? Six power plants up to the 350-hp Turbo-Jet 396 you can order. And four transmissions. Pick the combination that best suits your driving. Then go pick on an open road. Standard disc brakes. You stop as well as you go. It's only natural. With all that go, you want an equal amount of stop. You've got it. Front disc brakes are standard. For less heat buildup. And more resistance to fade. New Camaro. The Super Hugger. Other cars always feared it might come to this. And they were right. Only their timing was wrong. Putting you first, keeps us first.

Children Await Homes

Foster Parents Needed Urgently In Delta County

An appeal for foster parents to care for children in Delta County was made today by the Delta County Department of Social Services.

Neil Carlson, casework supervisor for the department, said there is an immediate demand for five or six placements and the department has been unable to locate foster parents.

"We've gone to different churches and church groups, but the response has been limited," he said. "We've also contacted the foster parents that we have and former foster parents, but again the response has been limited."

Carlson said the predominant need now is for teenage placements — both boys and girls.

Most of the children now under jurisdiction of the Delta County Department of Social Services are temporary state wards and have been referred to the department by Probate Court for supervision, placement and planning of placement. Some of the children are neglected, according to state statute, and others have had behavioral problems.

Need Couples
Carlson said the department occasionally gets some orphaned children, but orphans generally become permanent state wards and most of the children under social services jurisdiction are those where "parental rights have not been terminated."

What we need, he continued, are married couples who have demonstrated parental capabilities — maturity, patience, etc.

Briefly Told

State Police from the Gladstone Post issued traffic citations Tuesday to James Bess, Marquette, violation of the basic speed law; Larry Lewis, Marquette, no valid license plates; Walter Lewke, Jr., 616 S. 11th St., Escanaba, no operator's license and defective muffler; Dale Ingebritsen, Rte. 1, Gladstone, defective brakes; and Michael Mattila, Rock, speeding.

The Bay de Noc Gem and Mineral Club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Escanaba Area High School. Slides on, "Jewelry and Silver Service," will show the artistic design and metal working used in making silver jewelry with gem stones and tableware. A report on the gem and mineral show will be given. Use the northeast entrance and visitors are welcome.

There will be no Community School adult high school, basic education or enrichment classes this evening at the Escanaba Area High School. Classes will resume as usual next Wednesday night.

Foster parents have to be licensed by the Delta County Department of Social Services (no fee) and there would be a "home study" done of anyone who volunteers in the program. This study, which generally takes about two months to complete, involves interviews and checking of references, etc.

Allowance Provided

Carlson said that foster parents receive an allowance from the Social Services Department of $86 per month for a child age 13 or older and $69 a month for a child under 13 years old to provide an allowance for the children and for clothing, etc. He said the department also pays any medical expenses of a child.

There is no specific length of stay for a child, he said. It could be a few weeks or even a few years.

"The foster parents have the day-to-day responsibility and the Department of Social Services has the overall responsibility," he said. "Planning is flexible."

Carlson emphasized that younger couples are encouraged to volunteer as foster parents. In some instances, teenage children relate much better to younger foster parents than they would to an older couple, he said.

Persons wishing to volunteer for the program in Delta County could visit the Social Services office in the State Office Building or call Carlson at 786-5394. In other counties persons should contact the County Social Services Department.

Quit Smoking With Help Of 4-Way Test

With the help of The Smoker's Self-Test you can kick the smoking habit, or at least come closer to success, says the Delta County Cancer Society, which is offering the self-test program in cooperation with WNMR Channel 3 Marquette and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The National Education Television five part program series on smoking is made possible by a $190,000 grant from the American Cancer Society.

Through facilities of Channel 3 WNMR-TV the program will be brought to this area at 10 p. m. March 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. Described as "the most compelling program ever produced to help cigaret smokers give up their habit," the key element in the series is a test — called the Smoker's Self-test.

By taking the test smokers get answers to questions like these:

- Whether you really want to quit smoking.
- What you know about the effects of smoking on health.
- What kind of smoker you are — why you smoke.
- Whether the world you live in will help or hinder you if you do try to stop.

The Delta County Cancer Society has received 2,000 copies of the Smoker's Self-test and copies have already been distributed to schools in the area in advance of the NET program over Channel 3.

Service clubs will also receive copies and interested persons may have a free copy of the Smoker's Self-test at the office of the Escanaba Daily Press, 600 Ludington Street.

Census & Taxes

The District Office for the U. S. Bureau of the Census to count the population of the Upper Peninsula opened in Escanaba Tuesday morning without a great deal of fanfare. The mayors of Escanaba and Gladstone joined in informal computer tape cutting ceremony along with a handful of other community leaders.

They didn't realize what they were doing. If they had, they might have run the entire crew out of town on a rail.

All kidding aside, when the census is completed later this year and if advance predictions are anywhere near accurate, state collected tax kickbacks to local units of government in the Upper Peninsula will be slashed by over 13 per cent, according to the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, because the U. P. has failed to keep pace with the population growth in the rest of the state since the last census was taken 10 years ago.

It works this way, the Citizens Council says.

"The 1970 census count is expected to total 8,850,000, an increase of 1,025,000 or 13.1 per cent over the 1960 census of 7,824,000. This increase in population will result in a decrease in the per capita amount of state collected-locally shared taxes distributed. . . . Thus, a local unit with a population increase during the decade of less than 13.1 per cent can expect a decrease in revenues from state collected-locally shared taxes (as compared to what it would receive based on the 1960 census) . . ."

Michigan Employment Security Commission projections for the Upper Peninsula give the entire region a population of 301,100, a drop of nearly 6,000 persons since the 1960 figure of 305,952. Gogebic, Houghton, Keweenaw, Baraga, Iron, Dickinson, Alger, Menominee, Schoolcraft and Luce counties are expected to decline in population, while Ontonagon, Marquette, Delta, Mackinac and Chippewa counties will show gains.

The Citizens Research Council says the "fixed distribution of $9.5 million of the intangibles tax to cities, village and townships on a per capita basis, for example, will decrease from the present $1.21 per capita to an estimated $1.07 per capita . . ."

The Council further expects the distribution of sales, income and intangibles taxes to cities, villages and townships on the basis of the 1970 census will be $2.11 per person less than that based on the 1960 census. Motor vehicle highway fund moneys distributed to cities and villages will be $.94 less. Counties will get $.55 cents less per person in income tax kickback and $.15 less in gas and weight taxes (rural population only) . . .

Exactly what the reduction in state-collected tax will mean locally in terms of city, village, township and county programs remains to be seen, but most assuredly it can't be good in most places in the Upper Peninsula.

Only in Marquette County, where the population because of Northern Michigan University's growth in the past 10 years is expected to increase by about 8,500 (from 47,654 to 56,154) and in Mackinac County (from 9,287 to 10,853), is the increase expected to be anywhere near the state average. Delta County's growth is projected at about 1,400, Chippewa County's about 3,400 and Ontonagon's about 300, no where near 13.1 per cent.

Figuring $3 less per person in Delta County, that means the county's governmental units will lose in the neighborhood of $100,000 in income. And if programs are going to be continued at the same level as at present, that means more local tax money is going to be needed.

All of this, of course, points to the need for the Upper Peninsula to at least keep pace with the rest of the state. With the costs of government constantly on the increase and tax rates at or near the point where people won't tolerate too much more. It sure won't help to lose the dollars that once were there.

Nixon's Welfare

President Nixon sometime back proposed a guaranteed annual income of $1,600 for every family of four on welfare, whether anyone worked or not.

Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., now wants a guaranteed handout of $2,520 which would rise to $3,600 by mid-1972.

Of course, with the probable rise in government-sparked inflation and the consequent hoast in the cost of living, by 1972 there would be considerable pressure to hike guaranteed relief even higher.

Both the Harris and Nixon plans try to assuage the working classes by throwing in a sop, what the President calls Workfare. Able-bodied people on welfare would have to make themselves available for training and employment which Nixon says in the long run would mean a lower welfare bill.

That approach has already been tried and found lacking. The 1967 legislation for Aid to Dependent Children contained a requirement for job training. The program was known as Work Incentive (WIN).

At the time the Labor Department estimated that "900,000 to 1 million persons might be expected to secure employment and become self-supporting."

Figures show that only 92,000 people have signed up for WIN. In other words, WIN's a loser, and there's no indication Nixon's plan would work any better.

A report prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee sees even worse results from Workfare than from WIN. It forecasts that the administration's plan "may actually encourage desertion (by the father) rather than discourage it," putting more people on welfare. "Workfare" might turn out to be "Workfare."

Since the President admits that his welfare "reforms" would double the relief rolls, there is every probability that the people who work will be paying more taxes to subsidize people who find idleness a good way to make a living.

White House Provides Room For Free Debate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Intellectual debate sells at a discount these days.

Prof. Sidney Hook, the philosopher, tours the college campuses and makes the unwelcome discovery that the temper of the times calls for settling arguments not by reason but by "force majeure."

Prof. Noam Chomsky (Massachusetts Institute of Technology) goes so far as to say that "by accepting the presumption of legitimacy of debate on certain issues, one has already lost one's humanity."

An author who had written a book justifying our presence in South Vietnam was told by a dozen publishers that his thesis was unmarketable, the reason being that nobody would review it. Talk about conformity!

So where does a lover of debate go these days if he wants to give free rein to his skills? He gets a job on President Nixon's White House staff, where he is guaranteed a no-holds-barred, intellectual free-for-all. In the faculty lounge rooms and in book publishers' offices convention rules the day, but in the White House office building they hark back to the exciting period of the Founding Fathers of the Republic, when an Alexander Hamilton crossed swords with a Thomas Jefferson and a James Madison tried to mediate between the two.

Currently in the White House office building the battle rages over various interpretations of the New Federalism. In one corner we have "New Publius," the nom de guerre of Bill Safire; in the other corner stands "Cato," who is reliably rumored to be Tom Huston.

The fight is over who should interpret the moral feelings of the nation and give the marching orders to the 50 states, and to the individual citizens thereof.

"New Publius" thinks the government in Washington should formulate the objectives and put them up to the states and the individuals on a "you do the implementing, or we will." In short, the New Federalism, as "New Publius" defines it, limits State and individual rights to the narrow confines of administering policies that are dictated from the top down. Nobody is really allowed to say "no."

"Cato" objects to this peremptory dismissal of the Tenth Amendment, which defines the reserved rights and powers of the States and individual citizens.

A "New Federalism," according to "Cato," must not be permitted to degenerate into a "New Nationalism," which would prescribe the same point of view for everybody yet pretend to permissiveness in administration, letting the State capitals run things provided they did so in strict accord with the national plan.

"Cato" observes in his 17-page single-spaced memorandum to Richard Nixon that "New Publius," in urging the government in Washington to "determine the national conscience," is reverting to Rousseau's old theory of "the general will," which led directly to the excesses of the French Revolution. The "general will" does not allow for regional or individual variations; it becomes totalitarian in the name of a "national conscience."

this consensus and seek to sustain it.

But it must not attempt to mold or exploit it. More importantly it must recognize that an essential element in the American consensus is respect for the mores and traditions of regions and localities as well as respect for the idiosyncrasies and contrariness of individuals."

The intellectual controversy between "New Publius" and "Cato" comes at the precise point in time when Richard Nixon's Administration must make hard decisions on school busing. So it is not a purely academic argument.

And, if the government's decision is to let the states have a share of federal tax revenues, it would surely be "Cato's" idea to give the money without attaching any strings to it. "New Publius's" philosophy, on the other hand, would find strings entirely compatible with his notion of the New Federalism.

Whatever Nixon's choice may be between his free-wheeling intellectuals, it is free to know that in one place in the United States the "appeal to reason" is still possible. Prof. Sidney Hook may be disgusted with our universities, but he would find things very much to his taste in the White House office building.

POLLUTION LEVEL

The position that Ed Cox has taken regarding a local air pollution ordinance is, I believe, dead wrong. His reasoning that state laws are adequate and more desirable for our local air pollution problems because they would apply equally to all areas of the state apparently assumes that Delta County will be satisfied with the same air quality as Detroit, Flint, Midland, and Muskegon.

There are two things wrong with this reasoning that I can see. The first, obviously, is that Delta County should not be satisfied with the common denominator of air pollution that is necessary for the state of Michigan as a whole. One of our great natural resources in this area is our clean environment.

U.S. Charges In Milwaukee Cage Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declined Tuesday to hear the U.S. Government's claim that a federal judge erred when he dismissed federal charges against 10 members of the Milwaukee 14 in connection with the destruction and burning of draft records.

U.S. District Judge Myron Gordon on June 11, 1969, dismissed the three-count indictment because "of the effect of adverse publicity on the prospective jurors."

The Vietnam war protesters, several of them clergymen, were accused of seizing draft records and burning them in a park. They did not deny the charge but based their defense on moral grounds.

The accused were tried in state court on charges of burglary, arson and theft and 11 had been sentenced to two years in prison, and a 12th defendant was awaiting sentencing when Gordon made his decision to dismiss the indictments.

Judge Gordon declined to either move the case elsewhere or to hold it over for several months. He said a holdover would violate the right to a speedy trial. The government said he had erred.

Justice William O. Douglas, dissenting in the 7-1 decision, said the Supreme Court should have heard the case to decide both the issue of whether the Milwaukee 14 could have received a fair trial in Milwaukee and whether the case should have been continued.

West is therefore highly unlikely to have a singleton club, since he would almost surely have led it originally in the hope of finding his partner with either the ace of clubs or ace of spades. On this line of reasoning, you should cash the A-Q of clubs in preference to the A-K, and then take the proven finesse.

License Lifted From Car Dealer

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare said Tuesday that the automobile dealer license of Joe May Chevrolet Inc. of Detroit has been suspended.

The suspension, Hare said, follows the lifting of a court injunction against such action issued last Aug. 15.

Hare said an agent of his department personally removed the company's official license from the wall of its showrooms after the injunction was lifted. The order suspending the dealership was issued on Aug. 11, Hare said, after the May company was charged with fraud in selling a car to a Detroit man. The complaint charged the purchaser signed a blank sales contract that later was filled in by a company agent at a price $500 more than previously agreed on.

Hare said the company pleaded guilty in Wayne County Recorder's Court on Feb. 2 to violate the State Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act.

Our air pollution problems are not the same as those of Detroit, Chicago, and Gary, Ind., and the level of pollution that is acceptable in those places is not, I believe, acceptable here.

PTA FOUNDER'S DAY

PTA may not be what we expect it to be, nor what we may want it to be, but the important thing is that PTA is here and it has its objectives. Monday night at the Escanaba Area Senior High School auditorium, the people of this community supported it by their attendance. (Incidentally, it was a full house.)

We cannot find words adequate enough to express our deep gratitude to the clergy, various committees, the many persons who helped with no known recognition, teachers, business men, students, custodian, and everyone who participated in the program and publicity.

If the spirit which prevailed for the Founders Day program can continue on, the Escanaba Area PTA has excellent prospects for a fruitful and successful future.

The bidding:

North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 ♣ Pass 4 NT Pass
5 ♣ Pass 6 ♣

Opening lead—six of spades. Let's say you're in six spades and West leads a trump. You win in dummy, cash the A-K of diamonds, ruff a diamond, and play three more rounds of trumps, discarding two hearts from dummy.

You next play a heart to the king, losing to the ace, and ruff East's heart return. You are now down to four clubs in each hand and your one and only concern is that one opponent may have four to the jack.

In that case the jack can still be trapped by a finesse, but the difficulty is that you don't know which opponent has the assumed four clubs. If you knew this, it would be easy to pick up the jack.

Furthermore, the defenders did not help you much during the play. As you were drawing trumps, West discarded a diamond and a heart, while East discarded only a heart.

There is no sure indication whether it is better to lead the A-Q to trap West's jack if he has it, or whether to lead the A-K and thus trap East's jack if he has it.

On the surface there is nothing to guide you, but if you hark back to the bidding and the opening lead you can discover a clue.

You start by assuming that West knows you are missing an ace. North's five club response to Blackwood showed he had no aces and you cannot have all four aces yourself since you would surely not have used Blackwood for the purpose of having partner tell you he has no aces. It follows logically that for your six spade bid you must have only three aces.

License Lifted From Car Dealer

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare said Tuesday that the automobile dealer license of Joe May Chevrolet Inc. of Detroit has been suspended.

The suspension, Hare said, follows the lifting of a court injunction against such action issued last Aug. 15.

Hare said an agent of his department personally removed the company's official license from the wall of its showrooms after the injunction was lifted.

The order suspending the dealership was issued on Aug. 11, Hare said, after the May company was charged with fraud in selling a car to a Detroit man. The complaint charged the purchaser signed a blank sales contract that later was filled in by a company agent at a price $500 more than previously agreed on.

Hare said the company pleaded guilty in Wayne County Recorder's Court on Feb. 2 to violate the State Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act.

Husband's Appetite Not Only For Food

Dear Ann Landers: My neighbor asked if I knew where my husband spent most of his noon hour. I replied, "Eating lunch. Where else would he be?" She answered, "Would you believe in Filene's basement?" I was stunned.

She went on to explain that Filene's basement has become a favorite place to get an eyeful. Whenever they have a sale on dresses, which is often, female bargain hunters think nothing of stripping to bra and panties to try on the merchandise. I asked, "Why don't they use the dressing rooms?" She replied, "They don't want to wait."

When Dale came home for dinner I asked if what I had heard was true. He said yes, but he added, "I went six or seven times and lost interest."

If Dale was sex-starved I could understand it, but believe me, Ann, he has more than he can handle at home. What's the matter with a man who would do such a thing? Is he sick? — Brookline

Dear Brook: More childish than sick. But Dale's "boredom" suggests that his curiosity has been satisfied, so perhaps he is growing up. I predict the same fate for the stage and movie garbage which is currently so big at the box office. Nudity and gutter language are poor substitutes for talent and imagination. People will get sick of it eventually and demand their money's worth.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl 17 with an unusual problem. Last week I went on a blind date, arranged by my cousin. I liked Jim right away. I hope you won't think I'm terrible, but we ended up making out.

All of a sudden Jim said, "You kiss funny." I asked him what he meant by that. He said, "Well, it's like taking a shower with your clothes on." I asked him how I could improve. He said, "Practice."

My feelings are hurt, Ann. I've been told I am a very good kisser. Now I'm self-conscious and unsure of myself. Can you give me some helpful hints on how to improve my kissing? — D. Flated

Dear D.: Sorry — this isn't that kind of column. I do have some advice for you, however. Don't be so free with your kisses, kiddo. When you meet a boy you really care deeply about (and you can't possibly make such a decision on the first date), you won't need lessons.

Dear Ann Landers: This is in response to "Former Turtle Owner" — and to everyone who owns a pet:

All animal dealers should give instructions on the care and feeding of the pets they sell, but beware of the ignoramuses in the trade. Too often dealers don't know a cockeyed thing about animals. And there is no excuse for their ignorance. Libraries and book stores have plenty of information. The dealers need only to get the books and read. I am not a dealer, yet I know that all turtles and tortoises require temperatures of 75 to 80 degrees F.

And speaking of pet dealers, some of the commercial turtle food on the market has no food value. A turtle can starve to death on it. Please print the truth and wake up these people. — Cornell University.

Dear Cornell: Thanks for your letter. I hope your letter not only wakes 'em up, but shakes 'em up — enough to go to the library and learn something about the pets they sell.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Storm Closes Area Schools

Schools in Escanaba and in many outlying districts were closed today as snow and high winds plugged up rural roads.

Escanaba Area Supt. Luther M. Barrett said he ordered the schools closed after being informed by Delta County Road Commission that roads in the township areas, particularly east-west routes, were badly drifted.

Coupled with winds which pushed the wind chill factor to over 30 below zero, Barrett said he didn't want rural children standing outside waiting for school buses which might not even be able to get through.

The road commission reported that fewer than the usual number of plows out because of driver illness.

Snow began falling in the central part of the Upper Peninsula last night and before it ended pushed the total on the ground at Marquette to the highest in the nation.

About six inches of new snow fell in Marquette, increasing the depth on the ground to 24 inches. (Escanaba has 18 inches on the ground.) Heavy drifting was reported on rural roads and many schools in Alger and Marquette counties also were closed for the day.

Poor visibility and slippery pavement was blamed in a 13-car accident on U.S. 41 between Marquette and Negaunee this morning. Police said only three persons were injured, none seriously.

Officially, the snowfall in Escanaba in the past 24 hours was only about an inch and a half.

The temperature plunged from a high of 35 Tuesday to two degrees this morning. In Marquette, readings fell from a record high 49 degrees Monday to two degrees.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast called for a chance of more snow through Thursday. Temperatures are expected to climb back into the 30s Thursday as winds shift to the south.

Officials Attend Municipal League State Conference

City of Escanaba representatives including Mayor Cecil B. Case will be in Lansing Thursday for a legislative conference sponsored by the Michigan Municipal League.

Besides Mayor Chase the city will be represented by Mayor Pro-tem Robert Bink, John Duke, city engineer; Howard Smale, controller; Don Guindon, city clerk; and Gary LaPlant, administrative assistant. The conference includes get-togethers with legislative representatives for this district and on Thursday afternoon a scheduled meeting with Gov. Milliken and his staff.

Dog's Credit Card Has Man Howling!

TROY (AP)—Donald L. Boyd said he waived the credit card application he received in the mail and told his wife: "Sometime I think they would give these credit cards to a dog."

Mrs. Boyd disagreed. An argument ensued, which Boyd said was concluded when a department store mailed an approved credit card to the family watchdog.

Boyd says the store has sent their Dalmatian, named Tareytown Boyd, circulars calling her a "preferred customer."

A supervisor with the General Motors Corp. financial department, Boyd said he listed her age on the credit card application last summer as 2.7 years, and put down the occupation "watchdog."

He also said he did not list either an income or a Social Security number. Boyd, who already had a credit account with the store, said he signed the dog's name to the application.

Boyd, father of three children, admits he's been tempted to follow the advice the dog received from the store. He said it asked new credit card holders to bring no money, but to go to the store for the "friendly assistance of our courteous sales people."

He never plans, however, to use the card. Boyd just said he won his argument with his wife.

Midwest Target Of Cold, Storm

By The Associated Press
A wind-driven cold snap dipped into the Great Plains and the Midwest today and dropped temperatures to zero from North Dakota to Upper Michigan.

The arctic chill ended a four-day late-winter thaw in which the mercury had climbed into the 50s over a wide stretch of the midcontinent.

Northwesterly winds, with gusts up to 25 miles an hour, accompanied the falling temperatures. Snow flurries preceded the cold from the eastern Great Lakes to northern New England.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 71 at Miami, Fla.

Briefly Told

Luther Barrett, superintendent of Escanaba Area Public Schools, announced today that regular classes for all public school children will resume Thursday. Barrett also stated that parents originally scheduled for parent-teacher conferences today should contact teachers for a rescheduling of their conference date.

The Escanaba Recreation Department announced today that the dance for 7th, 8th and 9th graders Friday night at the Civic Center is scheduled from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

Escanaba police are investigating the theft of a barber pole from the outside of the Clayton Dean shop at 103 S. 16th St. The report was made to police Tuesday afternoon.

Merrill F. Gravelle, 50, Escanaba Rte. 2, was injured in a traffic mishap in the 300 block, N. 14th St., at 8:26 p. m. Tuesday, it is reported by city police. Officers said that Gravelle told them his glasses dropped off and that in recovering them he drove into a parked car owned by Duke Gardiner, 316 S. 15th St. Gravelle was ticketed for failing to exercise due care.

Lunch Plan Gets Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved making millions of needy children eligible for free school lunches. But the bill still must pass the House where members last year voted for a more modest program.

At the same time the Department of Agriculture assured senators it will change the ground rules of the school lunch program to allow schools—many of them old and located in big-city ghettos—to pay private caterers to serve the free or reduced-price lunches.

P. H. Beauvais Taken By Death

MANISTIQUE — Philip H. Beauvais died Tuesday in Manistee. He had served as city manager of Manistique from 1936 to 1942 and was well known throughout the U. P.

He was born in Muskegon in 1888 and worked as a civil engineer until 1918 when he became the first city manager of Manistee. He later served as city manager of Royal Oak, Alma and Allegan.

He received international recognition for 25 years of service at the annual conference of the International City Managers Association in 1954. He retired in 1960 and had served as consultant to several engineering firms.

He is survived by his widow, Alice; five sons, Edward of St. Louis, Mich., William of Manistee, Philip Jr. of Flint, Robert of Dearborn and Charles of Doylestown, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Carl (Phyllis) Carlson of Manistee and Mrs. Thawley (Mary) Haymen of Doylestown, Pa.; one brother, William of Muskegon, 22 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Memorial services will be conducted Sunday at the First Congregational Church of Manistee.

Nursing Home Care Target Of Lawmaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public funds have powered a huge expansion of the nursing home industry, but "no one is protecting the public, no one is protecting the tax dollars, and no one is protecting the patient," Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., charged today.

Pryor, who worked incognito as a volunteer nurse's aide to get first-hand information on nursing home conditions, reviewed his findings in a speech prepared for the House.

Some Well-Managed
"I saw older citizens placed in homes which in some instances were excellent, bright, cheerful and well-managed," he said. "But there were others which could have been created within the pages of a Charles Dickens novel."

"I saw loneliness and despair. I saw filth and anxiety...I think the word that describes the typical patient in many of our homes today is total, absolute boredom."

Citing costs for better nursing homes that range upwards of $700 a month, Pryor said "the ultimate price per bed is zooming upwards at such an alarming rate that only the affluent in our society can afford to grow old."

Pryor proposed creation of a special congressional committee to investigate all phases of the nursing home industry.

He said $2 billion a year of tax funds go to nursing homes and "all controls over where this money is going and what it is buying are fragmented, disjointed, self frustrating and ineffectual."

No Federal Checkups
Not only is responsibility divided among programs administered by several different government agencies, he said, but inspection is a function of the 50 states and apparently there is no check at the federal level on the effectiveness of such inspections.

Meanwhile, Pryor said, nursing homes have become big business and the stock of some 70 nursing home chains is sought after on the exchanges.

"We are commercializing our aged," he said. "Our citizens in nursing homes today have become in some instances mere human ping pong balls on Wall Street."

Minority Wins Another Round; HHH Talk Fails

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, jeered off a stage before he could give a scheduled speech, says the country is in trouble when small groups can force their will upon the majority.

The outburst began as Humphrey appeared onstage at the University of Massachusetts Tuesday night to deliver a lecture on foreign policy.

One group of students in long black robes chanted "guilty, guilty, guilty," apparently to express their displeasure with the conviction of five persons in the Chicago riot trial.

Other demonstrators booed, stamped and tossed paper on the stage.

The former vice president offered to entertain questions about Chicago before giving his prepared speech, but was drowned out by the demonstrators, who appeared to number about 250 in the crowd of some 5,000.

Plan Denied

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has denied an application by Shawnee Pipeline Co. of East Detroit to provide gas service to Ash Township, north of Carleton, Monroe County.

Rites Thursday For Alfred Groos, Township Clerk

Funeral services for Alfred P. Groos, Gladstone Rte. 1, who served as Wells Township clerk for many years and was active in 4-H Club leadership, will be held at 9 a. m., Thursday at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba. Mr. Groos died Tuesday and was 69 years old.

As a young man he attended Michigan Agricultural College at East Lansing and later was assigned to duties at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station at Chatham.

Following this he became a partner with his father, Jacob Groos, in the dairy business, from which he recently retired.

The elder Mr. Groos, member of one of Delta County's pioneer families, was clerk of Wells Township from 1900 to 1949, and in the latter year at his death the office was taken over by Alfred Groos, who continued in office until his death—a total of 70 years father and son had served in the position.

Mr. Groos was a leader in many 4-H Club projects, was among the organizers of the Delta County Historical Society and served as its treasurer and on the board of directors for a number of years. He contributed materially in research on local history.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 tonight and parish prayers will be at 7:30.

The Rev. Fabian Gertsle will officiate at the funeral service Thursday morning and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

GLADSTONE

List Committee For Recreation

By MARGARET ADAMS

The Gladstone City Commission and Board of Education have joined forces in establishing a community recreation committee for the purpose of developing needed recreational facilities in the Gladstone area.

Through this effort, the city and schools could possibly qualify for about $30,000 under the State of Michigan Recreational Bonding Program. This figure represents 80 per cent of the cost of any project or combination of projects with the local unit of government responsible for the remaining funds.

During a recent organizational meeting the committee composed of Ray Norton, Doug Bovin and Howard Keaton, all representing the city; and Jerrold Beevar, Gordon Marshall and Wes Fleet, all representing the school board, elected Norton committee chairman.

An advisory committee which will work directly with the official committee in the planning and developing of proposed facilities includes Bob Richards, community school director; Donald Pfothnauer, summer recreation director; Carlton Mineau, representing All Saints School; Cleve Krout, senior citizens representative; and three area residents, Clifford D'Arcy, John Lagina and Jack VanBroeklin.

Everyone Considered

Major consideration to be given when planning proposed facilities will include all age groups; location in the community so as to benefit and accommodate all citizens; usefulness in community and recreational school programs; and permanent construction capabilities.

At its organizational meeting the committee suggested the following needed facilities: lighted combination tennis, shuffleboard and basketball courts in the Buckeye School area to be utilized as a ice skating rink in the winter; shuffleboard courts and horse-shoe pits near Fairview Manor; lighted combination tennis and basketball courts located near the present tennis courts; possibly doubling the size of the present recreation building located on the playground so that it may be used year round; and additional softball-baseball diamonds.

Fleet said the successful development of good all around recreational facilities will require the interest and cooperation of all citizens and should prove to be a definite asset to the community.

Steve Maulding Will Head Student Council

The Gladstone Elementary Schools have organized a Student Council. Steve Maulding, a sixth grade student, was elected president at their first meeting held Thursday in Gerald Danhoff's office.

The purpose of the newly-formed organization is to give the students an opportunity to discuss problems relative to their needs.

Student representatives from each room were elected at the organizational meeting and they are Tammy Camps, from Mr. Holmstrom's sixth grade; JoAnn Waeghe, Mrs. Bjork's sixth grade; Steve Maulding, Miss Robare's sixth grade; Tracie Danhoff, Mrs. Westman's fifth grade; Bruce Cassell, Mr. Westerback's fifth grade; Pat Godfrey, Mr. Benson's fifth grade; Paul Strom, Mrs. Greene's fourth grade; Mark Mauhar, Miss Goodman's fourth grade; Joe Dolhopf, Mrs. Swenson's fourth grade and Roy Godfrey, Mrs. Stanek's special education class.

Other officers elected were Mark Mauhar, vice president; Tracie Danhoff, secretary, and Tammy Camps, treasurer.

The group discussed items that students could use when they are forced to remain indoors during the noon hour. They decided that items brought before the council for discussion should have one or more recommendations or suggestions for the solution of the problem. Student council representatives will contact other students to find out what kind of programs they would like to see the Community School plan for the next year.

Students will sponsor a candy sale monthly to raise money to purchase needed items and the sixth grade at the James T. Jones School and the fourth grade in the Buckeye School will sponsor the first sales on March 13.

The next meeting of the Council will be held on March 18th during the noon hour.

Consumer Confidence Appears To Be Waning

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Throughout the past year a great deal of publicity has been given to the various indices of consumer confidence, the notion being that a confident consumer is a spender, a timid one a saver.

Studies suggest that consumer confidence indices might be able to foretell actual retail sales conditions four or five months ahead, thus enabling manufacturers and retailers to prepare their inventories.

Confidence Falling Off

Confidence has been falling off late. Harassed by news about the Vietnam war, inflation, taxes and even the threat of recession, consumers have had a tendency to withdraw into the security of their shells.

In addition, with inflation eroding the value of spending money, their actual ability to spend has in some instances declined. And so the combination of reluctance and inability made a sad story for some retailers.

A lot of Americans, however, don't recognize themselves as lacking in buying confidence or ability. Their willingness couldn't be higher, they say. And their ability to spend has steadily increased.

Midwest Lowest

Curious to learn more about the situation, the marketing and opinion research firm of Sindlinger & Co. decided to break down the consumer confidence measurements by various categories, and it found:

—Confidence is lowest in the Midwest, a bit better in the West, higher in the East and highest of all in the South.

—Confidence is higher in rural areas than it is in the big cities.

—Confidence among whites is much higher than among non-whites.

Wide Variations

The variations are so wide that it appears misleading to say that Americans are or are not confident. It would be more precise to say that they are or are not in specific regions and markets.

For example, the national average, on Sindlinger's scale, dropped recently to 67.5 per cent, compared with a high of 78.7 per cent one year earlier.

Within this range, however, were included the figures for Detroit, where confidence was at a recession-like percentage of 48.4, and Atlanta, where the figure stood at a boom-like 81.5 per cent.

Cutbacks Noted

The low Detroit figure results, off course, from cutbacks in auto production, just as a 59.8 per cent figure for Seattle represents layoffs in the aerospace industry in that area.

The confidence percentages are determined from many answers to questions in four basic categories: current household income, expected household income, expected employment situation and expected local business conditions.

Good Crop Year

The latest surveys, all made by telephone from Philadelphia, produced these percentages: East 70.5, Midwest 61.9, South 76.2, West 65.6. Rural markets scored 77.2, but major industrial markets only 64.9.

Young Gunman Held In Hospital For Observation

PLYMOUTH (AP) — An 18-year-old Plymouth High School student remains under observation in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor after staging a shooting spree from his bedroom window.

Donald Groom barricaded himself in his room and fired at passing police cars and into neighborhood streets for almost two hours Monday afternoon.

Officials at University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor said that Groom had been treated there recently. He reportedly told officers Monday that his head hurt.

Nobody was injured in the shoot out, in which Plymouth police Chief Herbert Straley said that Groom fired about 30 rounds. The youth was reported to have a shotgun, high powered rifle and police radio in his room.

Tear gas was fired to rout him out of the home, and into the hands of more than two dozen waiting police.

University hospital sources said that Groom had been treated for "psychological and neurological disorders."

$200,000 Fire

EAST LANSING (AP) — A fire at the Cheney Concrete Co. in East Lansing Tuesday caused an estimated $200,000 damage, authorities said. The blaze destroyed four trucks, two diesel engines and a truck repair shop.

Authorities said the fire may have been started while a worker was cleaning a truck engine.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Sindlinger interprets the rural-metropolitan disparity to a good crop year and a feeling among farmers that although prices for crops are not as high as they would like to see, they are more satisfactory than in other years.

Figures for major cities include: Boston 65.6, New York 64.4, Philadelphia 69, Washington 66.6, Buffalo 68.2, Chicago 65.5, Cleveland 58.2, St. Louis 62.9, Milwaukee 65, Kansas City 66.1, Louisville 63.6.

In the South, Dallas with 77.3 per cent was right behind Atlanta. Houston reported 75.2, Miami 75.6, New Orleans 74.5. St. Petersburg-Tampa rated only 70.1, perhaps reflecting the inflationary pinch on fixed-income retirees.

San Diego Lowest

In the West, San Diego, with 59.5, was even lower than Seattle. Other West figures included Portland 60.4, San Francisco 61.6, Los Angeles 67.2, Denver 65.4.

Throughout the country the confidence level of nonwhites was far below the national average. Whereas whites registered 70.5 per cent, or higher than the national average, nonwhites scored only 53.6 per cent.

Because of such wide variations, says Albert Sindlinger, manufacturers and retailers have committed serious marketing errors, shipping at great cost the wrong products and the wrong quantities to their outlets.

Sensing a business opportunity, Sindlinger now plans to study 30 major markets in the United States in the same manner as the nation as a whole is studied.

PLAY DAY — The competition was tough in this 110 yard race between 4th grade girls at Sunday's 22nd annual Play Day sponsored by the Escanaba Recreation Department in cooperation with area public and parochial schools. In this race first place was captured by Jean White of Lemmer School who also took two other championships to lead the girls division skaters, Lee LeCaptain and Larry Bowman shared the boys division individual title with three wins apiece. Lemmer won the overall school championship. A fine crowd attended the races held at the Lemmer School rink. (Daily Press Photo)

State Democrats $17,000 Richer

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Democrats will wind up with a profit of about $17,000 from a fund-raising game which had a goal of $50,000, says State Chairman James McNeely.

"I'm not unhappy," McNeely said Tuesday. "You always set your goals high."

He said Democratic leaders will decide in the next several weeks whether to try the game approach again.

The game involved estimating the number of dots on a card-mag of Michigan. Each card cost $1. The contest was launched in November and was to have ended Jan. 18.

But in the week before the deadline, McNeely said he didn't even have enough money in hand to cover the costs.

So the contest was extended to Feb. 21 and party workers were urged to step up their card sales.

McNeely says he does not yet have the final tally, but "conservative" profit figure right now would be about $17,000.

"Realistically," he said, "I thought we could make about $20,000. We still might."

He says prize winners probably will be announced Monday.

Tiger pitcher Bob Reed went 1-for-2 as a hitter in his only major league appearances at the plate. He has a .500 lifetime average.

Pueblo Crew Losing Sight Due To Diet?

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — An inadequate diet while captives of the North Koreans is causing partial loss of sight among some crew members of the Navy intelligence ship Pueblo, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher said in a copyright interview in the Des Moines Register.

Bucher, interviewed by a member of the paper's Washington bureau via telephone from Pacific Grove, Calif., said he suffers from blind spots and severe headaches which doctors believe were caused by the inadequate nutrition. The crew got a diet that consisted mostly of turnips. The ship commander is being treated as an outpatient in California, he said.

"The symptoms have shown up in about one-third of the crew," Bucher said. In several, the damage is severe and probably permanent, he said.

Charles B. Law Jr., the ship's quartermaster is able to see to get about but has greatly reduced vision. He cannot see straight ahead and has to use his peripheral vision," Bucher said.

Doctors say the men's diets, which included no Vitamin A, C and D, apparently caused damage to part of the optic nerve, Bucher said.

The men were captured off the North Korean coast Jan. 23, 1968 and released Dec. 22 of that year.

Primitive people prized colorful cowries from the tropical waters of the Indian and Pacific Oceans for decoration and good luck. Given to a bride, they guaranteed offspring; attached to fishing nets, they promised a good catch.

GOP Chairman Backs Lenore

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Republican State Chairman William McLaughlin has joined Gov. William Milliken in supporting Lenore Romney as the party's "preferred candidate" for the U.S. Senate.

McLaughlin said Tuesday that he "totally supports" Milliken in the party search for a preferred candidate.

"Lenore Romney is an outstanding candidate who I am convinced will be a winning candidate in November," he said.

"She has my full and active support for the preferred designation."

Milliken announced his "full support" for the wife of former Gov. George Romney, now Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, late Monday afternoon, shortly before Mrs. Romney announced she would definitely try again to collect the consensus support of party leaders.

Milliken denied Tuesday that political pressure from the Nixon Administration had led him to openly support Mrs. Romney. He said his switch from a neutral position to active supporter was dictated by a "changed situation" among the potential candidates.

He said the decision was based on final withdrawal from the race by U.S. Rep. Donald Riegle Jr. R-Flint, and "the total affirmation by Mrs. Romney that she is in it to stay."

Before reaffirming her intention to enter the race for the nomination to oppose Democratic incumbent Philip Hart, Mrs. Romney failed on three ballots over the weekend to win the party's preferred designation.

Milliken has declared that such a designation would come when 75 per cent of some 355 party delegates endorsed one candidate.

Another delegate session is planned, but Milliken said the date has not yet been set.

Hospital Usage Overdone, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — A family doctor from North Carolina testified today that about 30 per cent of the people admitted to hospitals don't need to be.

"These patients could receive as good, or perhaps better—certainly less expensive—health and medical care by means other than by lying horizontal in a hospital bed," said Dr. Amos Johnson of Garland, N.C., a former president of the American Academy of General Practice.

Johnson's testimony was prepared for the Senate antitrust subcommittee, opening hearings on the high cost of hospitalization.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., the chairman, said he hoped to find ways in which more competition could bring down hospital prices, or at least prevent further increases.

Johnson blamed unnecessary hospital admissions on the health insurance system—and also on physicians who "find it much more convenient, time-saving and financially rewarding to see patients on an in-hospital basis."

He said medical education has for 20 to 30 years conditioned students to believe that the highest quality of care can be provided only if a patient is hospitalized.

"Well trained family physicians can comfortably and effectively care for 85 per cent of the usual ordinary illnesses that beset mankind," Johnson said. "And they can largely do this in the office, in the clinic, in the home or in the out-patient department, and at a cost most patients can afford."

But Johnson said only 15 per cent of medical school graduates now are trained as general practitioners, with the other 85 per cent becoming specialists. He said the ratio should be reversed.

Dr. Paul Patterson of Albany, N.Y., Medical College said genetic diseases are responsible for 25 per cent of a missions to hospitals and institutions for the handicapped—often at a "home destroying cost."

Patterson said until a system of health insurance "is finally adopted nationally," the states should help provide care for such chronically ill persons.

State Farm Asks Rate Increase On Muscle Cars

DETROIT (AP) — State Farm Insurance, the nation's largest auto insurer, is asking for rate increase of 25 per cent for collision and comprehensive coverage in Michigan on muscle cars.

The State Insurance Bureau and Commissioner Russell VanHooser are taking the request under study.

State Farm has said it will raise its rates for 1970 muscle cars next Sunday in 19 states not requiring prior administrative approval.

State Farm, which writes about 12 per cent of the auto insurance policies in Michigan, backed up its request with a study that it says shows muscle cars sustained losses 56 per cent higher than standard-power cars in the past three years.

Recently, Michigan's largest auto insurer, the Automobile Club of Michigan, was granted a 20 per cent increase on collision and comprehensive coverage for muscle cars.

The muscle, or high-performance, cars are those having a horsepower-to-displacement ratio greater than eight to ten or a weight-to-horsepower ratio less than eleven, according to one insurance company spokesman. He said these are cars that will accelerate from a standstill to 60 miles per hour in less than six seconds.

Anti-Pollution Scare Overrated?

WINSTON - SALEM, N. C. (AP) — Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, one of President Nixon's science advisers, believes some conservation enthusiasts have overreacted to the pollution threat.

"We have been inconsiderate of the environment in the past," DuBridge said Monday at a Winston - Salem symposium. "But in recent years we have improved. Now, with federal interest and growing public interest we're going to turn this thing around."

DuBridge said conservationists, in their zeal to awake concern among the apathetic, have depicted a black future for the environment that he could not accept.

He pointed to suits brought by the U. S. attorney general against 16 firms accused of polluting the air and water in Chicago and Gary, Ind., as examples of the Nixon administration's determination to check pollution.

Other cases will follow, he predicted, and the administration will push for new antipollution legislation. George E. Symons, editor of Water and Wastes Engineering, a trade journal, agreed with DuBridge that some conservationists were sometimes guilty of decrying pollution evils without checking their facts.

Despite the claim that Lake Erie is dead water, said Symons, the lake produces a larger fish crop than the other Great Lakes and still supplies drinking water for many cities.

Snowmachines Restricted In City Operation

City Council has granted permission for snowmachines to be operated on city streets during the Snowmobile Derby activities, March 6-8, but only under certain conditions.

Snowmachines may be run on city streets on Friday night by operators going to and from the parade scheduled for that evening between 4-6 p.m. Snowmachines may cross U.S. 2 and M-94 to get to the parade but under no circumstances may they travel on U.S. 2 or M-94.

The following day, Saturday, March 7, snowmobilers may operate their machines on city streets going to and from the racing site off Maple Ave. This general permission is granted from sunrise to sunset but, again, no machine may be run on either U.S. 2 or M-94.

The city has stipulated, however, that only licensed automobile drivers may operate snowmachines and at a speed not exceeding 10 m.p.h.; no private property may be traversed including city property; snowmobilers must yield right-of-way to all pedestrians and motor vehicles. Operators will be ticketed for any violation of good safety practices, the city has promised.

Local People Help Parents Visit Son

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gould, Rte. 1, are in Phoenixville, Pa. today visiting their son, Pfc David R. Gould through the generosity of local residents and business people.

David, 20, was flown from an Army hospital in Japan to Valley Forge General Hospital two weeks ago. He was wounded by a booby-trapped land mine in Vietnam on Dec. 27 and was listed in "very serious" condition for several weeks.

Jack Herro, owner of the Chat 'N Nibble Restaurant

Consumer Buying Habits Studied

Consumer buying habits in Manistique are being studied by students in the distributive education classes at Manistique High School.

The high schoolers are conducting individual "Studies in Marketing" projects with the best three to be entered in a state-level contest in March. The students are surveying teen-age spending habits, reasons for store preferences, brand preferences of snowmobiles, dairy products, soft drinks, canned soups and cereals. Other students are doing price checks of food market and service station products.

In observance of Careers in Distribution Week, March 8-14, the students are busy working on original ad layouts which will appear in a special supplement of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune on March 12.

Miss Helene Voisine is instructor of the classes.

spearheaded a drive to collect funds so the Goulds could visit their son. Herro went around seeking contributions on Monday and "found people very willing to give. I was surprised at the response." Donations ranged from $1 to $25. In all, $416 had been collected Tuesday noon.

The Goulds left Manistique Tuesday noon for Detroit where they were to board a Tuesday night plane for Philadelphia.

David is in satisfactory condition, his sister, Mrs. James Marks of Manistique said. Doctors have advised her parents his recovery would be gradual.

Both the young soldier's legs were amputated above the knees and he suffered severe lacerations of his left forearm and hand, left cheek and scalp plus head injuries, according to a medical report released at the time of his injury.

MDF Solicitors To Collect Funds

Area residents are reminded that volunteers will be calling on households Thursday seeking contributions to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. In addition to local women volunteers, the solicitors will be assisted by the 4-H Teen Club.

Mrs. J. P. Quick and Mrs. Edward Mathson are co-chairmen of the Drive. Gerald Grapshos is treasurer.

Funds collected will go primarily for medical research in Muscular Dystrophy, a crippling disease which strikes mainly children in the three to thirteen age bracket.

Four Break-Ins Being Probed

State Police are investigating the reported breakings and enterings of four cabins on Indian Lake. Windows and doors were broken to gain entry, troopers said. The acts were committed sometime during the past two weeks.

The cottages are owned by George Schmeler, Westland; George Miller, Manistique and Florida; James Lucas, Dearborn; and Robert Anderson, address presently unknown.

Public Safety officers report a truck driven by George V. Johnson, 45, Rte. 1, slid into a car driven by Larry L. Patz, 215 N. First St., at 8:30 Monday night in front of the high school on Cedar St. Johnson told officers he was unable to stop on the slippery road to avoid hitting the Patz vehicle. No tickets were issued.

An automobile driven by Karen M. Johnson of Chicago, backing out of a private driveway on Manistique Ave. Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m., was struck by a car driven by Daniel J. Anderson, 602 Manistique Ave. No tickets were issued.

MONROE (AP)—The Monroe County Sheriff's department has been given the use of a single-engine Cessna airplane. Sheriff Charles Harrington said it would be used for searches over Lake Erie and traffic control.

Johnson Hits 49 Points As Iowa Dumps Wildcats

By The Associated Press

Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, Dan Issel of Kentucky, Austin Carr of Notre Dame have nothing on John Johnson of Iowa when it comes to individual high scoring games in college basketball.

Johnson threw in 49 points, an all-time Iowa single game record, in leading the Hawkeyes to their 13th straight victory, 116-97 over Northwestern at Iowa City Tuesday night.

This was short of the recent 64, 54 and 55 efforts of Maravich, Issel and Carr, but Johnson probably could have scored more if he hadn't been taken out by 6:28 left to play. At the time he had 47 points.

"We want Johnson, we want Johnson," the crowd chanted, Ralph Miller, Iowa coach, put Johnson back into the game with 3:45 to go. He scored another basket before fouling out with 1:44 left.

The victory kept the ninth-ranked Hawkeyes unbeaten at 11-0 in the Big Ten Conference

Negaunee brought its margin back to 10 points on a field goal by Bob Mager and a pair of free throws by Darryl Waara and then held on for the victory.

Gladstone only led twice in the game, 5-4 and 13-12, both times in the first quarter.

Once again it was Young who took over the scoring chores for Gladstone, hitting 11 of 19 field goal attempts and adding one free throw for 23 points. Marshall was the only other Brave to score in double figures with 13 points.

Scott Robare paced the Negaunee attack with 15 points, while Waara had 14 and Brian Balzarini 12.

Both teams made 25 field goals in the game, but the Braves came out on the short end of the final score at the free throw line, making eight of 14 attempts while Negaunee was 11 of 20. Gladstone made 25 of 69 field goal attempts for 35 per cent and the Miners were 25 of 61 for 41 per cent.

Gladstone is now 8-8 on the season and will close out regular season play Friday night at home against the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils.

The Negaunee junior varsity posted a 59-54 victory in the preliminary game.

Marquette Passes Bid To NCAA Cage Event

By The Associated Press

The 10 at-large bids for the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship went out. Nine were promptly gobbled up while Marquette passed.

Coach Al McGuire of Marquette spurned the NCAA's bid Tuesday and said instead his eighth-ranked Warriors would go to the National Invitation Tournament in New York.

McGuire said the NCAA's decision to place Marquette in the Midwest Regional instead of the Mid-East was the basic factor in rejecting the bid.

Marquette, with a 19-3 record, was replaced by unranked Dayton, 17-7, while the Midwest spots went to No. 6 Jacksonville, 21-1, and No. 13 Notre Dame, 20-5.

The other teams chosen were: No. 3 St. Bonaventure, 19-1, No. 5 New Mexico State, 21-2, No. 15 Houston, 20-3, No. 20 Utah State, 18-5, Villanova, 17-6, Niagara, 19-4, and Long Beach State, 21-3.

The 10 at-large teams will join 15 conference champions, Kentucky, the top-ranked team in the latest Associated Press poll, already has qualified by winning the Southeastern Conference as and set up Saturday's big road game against runnerup Purdue.

The Boilermakers, two games back at 9-2 with three to play, kept their hopes alive with a 108-94 victory over Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Rick Mount scored 42 points for Purdue, 39 in the second half. Mount broke the game open in the second half with a steal and layup after the Go-phears had pulled within 5-54.

Purdue wasn't the only team to turn in a road victory Tuesday night. Illinois downed Michigan 74-67 and Ohio State busted Wisconsin 98-96. Indiana won at home by defeating Michigan 102-93 despite a 36-point performance by Rudy Tomjanovich.

Illinois snapped a six-game losing streak with its victory at Michigan State. Rick Howat paced the attack with 19 points while the illini held sophomore sensation Ralph Simpson to 18 points.

Big Bay, Powers Register Important Cage Victories

Big Bay de Noc posted its 16th victory of the season and the Powers — Spalding Tigers clinched at least a tie for the Skyline Conference crown in two of the four games involving Class D teams in the Escanaba area Tuesday night.

Big Bay ran its season record to 16-1 with one game remaining by nipping Brimley 71-69 at Brimley and Powers picked up its 14th victory in conference play against one defeat by edging Republic 76-73. Other area games found Hermansville breaking a 12-game losing streak by defeating Felch 77-68 and Trenary remaining alive in the race for second place in the Central League with a 70-66 victory over Eben.

With three and half minutes remaining in the Brimley-Big Bay game, Brimley took a two point lead, but the Black Bears came right back to regain the lead with eight straight free throws.

Powers also trailed late in its game with Republic, falling behind by a six-point margin with two minutes remaining. The Tigers' press then went to work and in a short time, Powers had regained the lead by five points.

Powers made 30 of 70 field goal attempts and Republic was 31 of 71, but the Tigers made 16 of 23 free throw attempts while Republic was 11 of 20.

has Western Kentucky, Ohio Valley Conference winners.

Defending NCAA champion UCLA, 21-1, ranked second after suffering its first defeat Saturday, has a two-game lead over four remaining and seems virtually certain of winning the Pacific-8 title and go for its fourth straight NCAA title.

First-round pairings in the East on March 7 will pit Villanova vs. iddle Atlantic Conference champion at the University of Pennsylvania; St. Bonaventure vs. Southern Conference winner at St. John's, N.Y., and Niagara vs. Ivy League champion at Princeton.

In the Mid-East two games will be played at Dayton, Jacksonville vs. Western Kentucky, 20-2, and Notre Dame vs. Mid-American Conference champion.

In the Midwest, Houston vs. Dayton and New Mexico State vs. Southwest Conference champion play a doubleheader at Texas Christian University.

Two games are scheduled at Brigham Young University, Big Sky champion Weber State, 19-5 vs. Long Beach State and Utah State vs. Western Athletic Conference winner.

points and Dave Sorenson added 25 to lead Ohio State past Wisconsin. Badger Clarence Sherrod led all scorers with 30 points.

Indiana got a cluster of points from four players to whip Michigan and climb out of the Big Ten cellar. Joby Wright scored 24 points while Jim Harris and Ken Johnson added 22 each and Rick Ford added 19.

Jacksonville, sixth-ranked in The Associated Press poll, barely averted defeat at the hands of Oklahoma City after accepting a bid to the NCAA postseason tournament.

The Dolphins pulled out a 77-75 home court victory on Vaughn Wedeking's jumper with just four seconds left. The Chiefs had tied the score at 75-75 on Charles Wallace's basket with 45 seconds to go.

Villanova, NCAA-bound, walked Toledo 107-82 while St. John's of New York humbled Holy Cross 75-62 in a battle of NIT-hopefuls.

Ten Men Indicted In Gambling Probe

DETROIT (AP) — Federal court arraignments are scheduled Monday for 10 men who are first to be indicted by a grand jury probing nationwide gambling and its relationship to the sports world.

The indictments were made public Tuesday. Baseball Hall of Fame pitcher Jerome "Dizzy" Dean was named as one of six co-conspirators, but not a defendant.

Dean and his nephew, Paul Dean Jr., were alleged in the indictments to have placed bets with three defendants from Biloxi, Miss., in behalf of Howard Sober, 74, a Lansing, Mich., trucking executive. Sober also has been named a co-conspirator.

None of the seven Michigan men nor the three from Biloxi, Miss., are sports figures.

The 10 are charged with using the telephone between states in violation of federal gambling laws to allegedly "exchange line information, place bets, layoff bets, and accept bets on horse racing, and sports events from and with one another."

U.S. District Attorney James Brickley said the indictments had no relationship with testimony given to the grand jury a week ago by Detroit Tiger pitcher Denny McLain.

Brickley said that McLain's grand jury testimony, which was given voluntarily, involved "a separate matter" and was "not in any way" connected with the case of the 10 indicted men.

Brickley did not elaborate on McLain's testimony.

McLain was suspended indefinitely from organized baseball last Thursday by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for what Kuhn called "involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities."

Kuhn said the suspension would remain pending his further investigation.

The 10 were actually indicted Feb. 16, but the indictments were not made public until Tuesday. They are free on bond.

Federal officials said they seized more than $600,000 in cash and checks in New Year's Day raids at the Michigan residences of two of the indicted men. They are Isaac "Ike" Johns, 58, of Lansing, Mich., and Donald Dawson, 48, of Birmingham, Mich.

In January, Brickley said the government had evidence and records "linking with this conspiracy a number of additional people including well known figures in the sports and horse racing world."

Brickley has consistently declined to name any active sports figures who may be involved.

The 10 indicted include Dawson; Johns; Nick C. Mondella, 44, of Farmington Township, Mich.; Jack Anthony Lucido, 35, of Grose Pointe Woods, Mich.; Howard Dixon, 67, of Detroit; Leonard Torrice, 49, of East Detroit, Mich.; Stephen C. Daunch, 5, of Madison Heights, Mich.; Peter J. "PJ" Martino, 47, of Biloxi, Miss.; his brother, Warren Luke "Wimpy" Martino, 44, of Biloxi, and Salvatore "Sammy" Sicuro, 64, of Biloxi.

Named co-conspirators but not defendants are the Deans, Sober, Mike Dorian, 44, of Bloomfield Township, Mich.; Mitchell E. Karam, 36, of Bloomfield Township, and Fritz Lindstrom, 64, of Phoenix, Ariz.

The indictment also alleges telephone conversations involving gambling — were made — between Phoenix, Ariz.; Wiggins, Miss.; and the Michigan towns of Lansing, Detroit, Birmingham, Center Line, East Detroit, Farmington Township, Warren and Royal Oak.

Budget Cut OK'd

ERIE (AP) — The Mason Consolidated School Board has approved budget cuts of $120,000 in its 1970-71 budget and is eyeing another $120,000 cut. The cuts were necessitated by voters rejecting an eight-mill operating levy Feb. 3. Libraries will be closed and band, chorus and special education programs will be cut in the next school year.

County-Wide Library Project Is Proposed

The county library concept, successfully advanced in Dickinson County with a new $400,000 project, should be explored in Delta County to meet the developing library needs of the people, it was suggested to the Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

The speakers were Isadore Stein, Rotarian and member of the Escanaba Public Library board, and Ralph Secord, Iron Mountain, director of the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation.

Thomas Straebel, Rotary Club president, conducted the meeting and welcomed guests including Mrs. O. W. Brookes, Escanaba Library librarian; and Bay de Noc Community College students Rick Anderson and Lief Erickson.

Stein noted that Rotary through its community service committee headed by Charles Folio adopted as one its projects "a new library for a growing Escanaba." The Rotary Club of Iron Mountain was instrumental in promoting the new Dickinson County Library, he said.

Now Inadequate

The history of Escanaba's 63-year-old library was traced by Stein, who also described its growth to last year's record cir-ulation of 112,169 books.

In 1917 an effort was made to interest Delta County in sharing the expenses of operating the library with the City of Escanaba, but it was not until 1968 the county agreed to participate in the amount of $13,000 annually, Stein said.

Now the library serves all of the people of Delta County without charge, and library stations have been established in Stonington, Ford River, Nahma, Garden and at Perkins. Stein said the need for a new library in Escanaba is three-fold:

1—A more comprehensive building, correcting present over-crowding; 2—Providing a cultural center, educational lectures, community betterment; and 3—A more central location for the people of the area.

Federal Funding

Secord told the Rotarians of the recent library building project in Iron Mountain. Basically it called for finding the money and finding a site.

The Dickinson project totaled over $400,000 with local share amounting to $136,500, of which $65,000 was raised by bonding against the library's assured millage income.

Highland Park OK's Frisk Rule

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — A unanimous vote by the Highland Park City Council adopted a stop-and-frisk ordinance Tuesday night.

Negro Mayor Robert Blackwell who proposed the law said there was no public opposition to the vote at the council meeting.

It will go into effect March 11 for a day trial period, and at the end of that time the council will vote on extending it or not.

The stop-and-frisk ordinance gives police the right to stop, detain and make a limited search of persons who are "reasonably suspected" of criminal activity.

Highland Park, a suburb of Detroit has about 38,000 residents, almost 43 per cent of whom are black.

Space Program Hit By O'Leary

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientist Brian O'Leary says he resigned from the Apollo space program because of its "indifference to science in general."

He called the program astronaut-dominated and added:

"The pilots are not trained as scientists and cannot act as scientists; they tend to think in terms of technical feasibility—of one technical stunt after another...."

"I think most people would agree that test pilots and scientists could complement each other on a space voyage. Certainly the public would like an optimal return from the half-billion dollars spent on each lunar landing."

Dr. O'Leary's statements appear in the current issue of Ladies' Home Journal, in a condensation of his forthcoming book, "The Making of an Astronaut."

One of 11 scientists originally chosen to become astronauts, Dr. O'Leary resigned from the National Aeronautics and Space Agency's program in April, 1968, eight months after he entered it. He said at the time, "I guess flying just isn't my cup of tea."

Actually, O'Leary said his resignation involved more than his distaste for flight training. He claimed that for lack of scientific training Apollo moonmen have misused camera filters, failed to document the location of many moon rock samples, and show lack of discrimination in collecting rock samples and making pictures of the moon surface.
